We were blessed to receive news about growth and progress with the work in South Africa. This is an extract from Jan Ellis, our apostolic man there, based in Durban:

"It is indeed both an honour and joy to be part of the Multiply Network and to be involved with AMEN as the Multiply Network is evolving and growing to be a global church network. There are so many church leaders out there that try do it on their own, but struggle without the support they need so much, and are spiritual orphans. Multiply Network not only offers brotherhood covenant relationships that are vital, but also has the infrastructure to support with training and apostolic guidance."
